EXTENDED STATUTES OF LIMITATIONS DURING THIS TIME OF COVID-19

As of November 30, 2020, Colorado has not created any rules extending statutes of limitations during the COVID-19 pandemic.

TEMPORARY RULES EXTENDING TIME LIMITS TO SERVE COMPLAINTS AND/OR SPECIAL RULES RELATING TO METHODS OF SERVICE

As of November 30, 2020, Colorado has not enacted any blanket rules regarding extending the time to serve complaints. However, pursuant to Governor Polis' Executive Order D 2020 223, landlords are required to provide additional notice and opportunity to cure for any default or nonpayment which occurred after March 10, 2020. Specifically, Governor Polis suspended the portions of C.R.S. §§ 38-12-204(1), 38-12-204.3(2), and 13-40-104(1)(d) which require either three, five, or ten days' notice to tenants. Instead, landlords must provide thirty days' notice before initiating an action for forcible entry and detainer. The executive order is currently in effect through December 19, 2020 but is likely to be extended continuously throughout the pandemic.

This Compendium outline contains a brief overview of certain laws concerning various litigation and legal topics. The compendium provides a simple synopsis of current law and is not intended to explore lengthy analysis of legal issues. This compendium is provided for general information and educational purposes only. It does not solicit, establish, or continue an attorney-client relationship with any attorney or law firm identified as an author, editor, or contributor. The contents should not be construed as legal advice or opinion. While every effort has been made to be accurate, the contents should not be relied upon in any specific factual situation. These materials are not intended to provide legal advice or to cover all laws or regulations that may be applicable to a specific factual situation. If you have matters or questions to be resolved for which legal advice may be indicated, you are encouraged to contact a lawyer authorized to practice law in the state for which you are investigating and/or seeking legal advice.
