

International Business Services

Many U.S. companies are projecting that profits from international business will increase in the coming years. And companies based outside the U.S. increasingly look to the U.S. market to provide opportunities for growth and expansion. But, doing business across international borders isn't simple, and doing it without seasoned advice or relevant experience makes it even more difficult.

With offices in major trading hubs across the Western U.S., our multi-lingual attorneys help private and public companies in the U.S. and abroad build and expand their businesses.

Clients ranging from major international corporations to entrepreneurial start-ups look to us for counsel on structuring and forming businesses, operational and import/export issues, compliance and board matters, and more, including:

- Finance and securities
- Franchises
- Intellectual property
- Joint ventures
- Not-for-profit issues
- Partnerships
- Tax
- Transactions
- Cross-border disputes
- Regulatory compliance

We'll help you unravel your most challenging legal issues no matter where your business takes you.
