

Acquisition, Development & Divestiture

Our comprehensive real estate practice is known across the United States for our involvement with transactions and development projects of all types.

Owners, developers, investors, and lenders in commercial, industrial and multifamily housing market sectors turn to us for help with a full range of real estate needs – purchases, sales, leasing, and financing. We act as national acquisition counsel for some of the largest insurance company REITs in the United States.

Our attorneys assist with land acquisitions and development, acquisition of income-producing and all other types of real estate, portfolio acquisition, commercial leasing, land use, owners' associations, and master planned communities. We assist with mortgage lending and other real estate finance transactions, foreclosure, loan work-outs, and restructuring. We frequently bring in attorneys with particular strength and experience in structuring complex joint venture and other operational entities as part of a transaction, addressing specific tax structures and concerns, conducting environmental due diligence, or assistance with various liability, disputes, and litigation concerns.
